

Words are made from sounds.

We write sounds as letters, and we use letters to build the words.

Look at all the different shapes of the letters.

Do you know the animals in the letters?

